His grandchildren and great grandchildren brought him great joy. Attending school activities, graduations and helping his grandchildren with their 4-H woodworking projects were always a special time of bonding. Throughout the years Tony had many passions such as hunting, fishing, gardening, hummingbirds, woodworking.

Above all his traits, he always placed GOD first in his life and looked forward to attending church. He was a devout Christian and was a member of the Foundations Methodist Church in McAllen, Texas.

“ Uncle Tony was one of the first people to hold me as an infant, was in my life as far back as I can remember. He was a voice I needed to hear say "Yes", when I was invited to be part of the first official class of women at Texas A&M. He was funny and kind, considerate, always brought peace and comfort. You are now being teased and loved on by your brothers and sisters - back at 'em! Aunt Dotty, you are in my heart and prayers. You two were truly one. Prayers for your wonderful family, who carry on your legacy of joy and love.
