“ Mr. Bottom was my first employer. I received two internships at First State Bank and Trust in Mission because he hired me two summers in a row after high school. He was very kind to hire me and I enjoyed our daily work day interaction, as he always made a point to stop and check in. He would leave his office, begin crossing the lobby and immediately everyone in the bank sat up straight, not because he was mean, but because we all respected him. He worked hard, so everyone wanted to work hard for him. He was kind and fair and hardworking, and thanks to Mrs. Bottom, never missed an important invitation, always acknowledging them with a gift and a note. He was a touch point in my transition from high school student to adult and I will always remember him with gratitude and fondness.
