“ I had the pleasure of calling this amazing man Dad. He treated my siblings and I like his very own children. He loved and educated us in things of the world. He always told us to never give up and always strive for more. Education played a huge roll in his teachings towards us. He showed us the finer things in life and told us it was achievable no matter what anyone said. He was always someone my siblings and I could count on. He protected us and loved us in his very own way. Always reminding us that we are greater than our circumstances. We can all know shake someone's hand correctly and engage in intellectual conversations. He gave and showed us the finer things in life. I will always be grateful and honored to have known this man and able to call him my Dad. I will miss dearly but I know his legacy will go on. All his hard work will continue and the seeds he planted will blossom into amazing accomplishments. I love you and will miss you dearly Dad.
