“ My mother in law had a green thumb, and she loved to grow plants in my backyard. She liked roses and hibiscus flowers. We spent quite a bit of time together in the kitchen. She was a great cook. She taught me how to bake homemade wheat bread, corn bread, wheat biscuits and all kinds of pies. We often wrote down and traded recipes. She enjoyed making chicken, bean, and cheese tamales. Besides being in the kitchen, she enjoyed being outdoors with the grand kids and great grand kids at Port Mansfield, Falcon Dam Park, and La Joya Lake. She would help prepare hot dogs, and fry fresh caught red and speckled trout. I am going to miss her sitting next to me at Church services, and miss her conversations on cooking, sewing, and gardening. She gave me her beautiful white wedding dress and jewelry that will be gifted later to her great grand daughter.

“ Mom lived in the RGV area, and she spent a large portion of her time with the eldest son, his wife, and youngest son. She was present at her son's Thanksgiving, Mother Day, Feast Days, etc. celebrations. Where ever her son's family went, she was present too such as Port Mansfield, La Joya Lake, parks, SA Riverwalk, Armstrong Auditorium, and etc. She was even driven to see her family in Tennessee. Mom faithfully attended church every sabbath with her son. When she went to the hospital multiple times, her son, wife, and youngest grandson visited, encouraged, and expressed love. Mom was showered with gifts, cards, letters, flowers, bear hugs etc to her last breath that expressed love to her. Before she died, she read how grateful I was for all the blessings I was due to her as my mother. She held my hand as a child, I now hold her forever in my heart.
